

JESUS COLLEGE OXFORD

JC:P61 REMINISCENCES OF PAUL HUBBELL (MATR. 1914)

Paul Edgar Hubbell came up to Jesus College in 1914 as a Rhodes Scholar and read Classics. These memoirs were found in the Fellows' Library and transferred to the archives at an unknown date. They were found in the archives in the spring of 2016 and assigned the Accession Number 86.

Catalogued in January 2017.

JC:P61/MSI/I

Apr 1940

Typescript by Paul Hubbell titled "Oxford Tutorial Traditions: Twenty-five years after". This is a general essay about the nature of the Oxford tutorial system as experienced by Hubbell, with reflections on its development in Victorian time. He does not explicitly refer to his own experiences at Jesus College, except at the end to list the Fellows who taught him.