HUGH PRICE FELLOWSHIPS IN THE HUMANITIES FURTHER PARTICULARS

I THE APPOINTMENT

The College invites applications for up to two Hugh Price Fellowships in the Humanities, tenable from 1 October 2024 for three years in the first instance, with the possibility of renewal thereafter for up to a further six years. These Fellowships are intended for those in early-mid career who possess clear academic distinction in research in the Humanities (normally building on the existing strengths of the College). They have particularly been created to offer a college affiliation to those holding posts in the University of Oxford who have no college association, such as contract research staff.

Criteria for appointment

1. Applicants should be employed in the University of Oxford, normally on a full-time basis;
2. Do not already hold a college affiliation. It is not possible to hold this Fellowship with that of another college;
3. Applicants should possess clear academic distinction in research in the Humanities (building on the College's area of strength as exemplified by the Fellowship – see <https://www.jesus.ox.ac.uk/about-jesus-college/our-community/people>);
4. Applicants will usually be at an early-mid career stage, i.e. following their first postdoctoral position (these fellowships are not for those holding their first postdoctoral positions as we have Junior Research Fellowships for such postholders);
5. Be willing and able to support the College's activities by participating in College life, for example by speaking at Senior and Middle Common Rooms symposia, acting as College Advisor to a small number of graduate students in cognate subject areas, assisting with development and fund-raising activities.

Applications are particularly welcome from women, and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.

The Selection Committee will explicitly take into account any career breaks – particularly for those with caring responsibilities – or other factors, such as part-time working or disability, which may affect applicants’ research output.

II JESUS COLLEGE

Jesus College has a strong commitment to promoting and enabling education, learning, scholarship and research at the highest levels amongst its students and academic staff, whilst preserving an informal and friendly atmosphere. Founded in 1571 by Elizabeth I, the College is a self-governing educational charity and is one of the 39 constituent colleges of Oxford University. With Professor Sir Nigel Shadbolt FRS FREng, as its Principal, the College comprises over 100 Fellows, 50 lecturers, just over 330 graduates and just under 400 undergraduates, and 90 support staff. The College is located on an attractive historic site in the centre of Oxford, with excellent access to the Bodleian Library and other University libraries, the Science Area, and the University’s department and faculty buildings. Two annexe sites, in north and east Oxford, allow the College to provide accommodation for almost all its students.

In 2022 the College opened the Cheng Yu Tung Building on its main Oxford site. In addition to postgraduate accommodation, teaching and learning spaces and other student facilities, this transformational space includes the Cheng Kar Shun Digital Hub, fostering innovation with digital technology, within and across disciplines, and enabling researchers to explore new methodologies and share research results in innovative ways. The Digital Hub engages academics, students, staff, schools, and the public with digital research and teaching, events and activities, thus building on the University of Oxford’s world-leading research, teaching, collections, and technologies.

The College encourages the academic achievements of its students (being regularly towards the top of the table for the best performance in final examinations) with excellent teaching, and generous and varied financial support. Similarly it celebrates and supports the academic endeavours of its Fellows, both in research and teaching.

The College held a Strategic Review of its activity for 2023-2027, setting out a number of important academic themes.

Full information about the College is available on the college website.

Intellectual life and the College community

Each term there are a number of events for members of the Senior and Middle Common Rooms to meet to present and discuss their research, as well as many varied and interesting online events open to Fellows, staff and alumni. Additional events throughout the year include student musical, dramatic and choral productions.

The Fellows of the College form a lively multi-disciplinary and international community. Weekday lunches in particular are a popular time and there would be excellent opportunities for the Hugh Price Fellow to speak to a broad range of other Fellows and lecturers in many different disciplines. Guest Nights on Wednesdays and Fridays during term offer very pleasant occasions for Fellows to entertain professional and personal guests, and a chance to meet a wide range of interesting people. The College hosts a number of well-attended formal dinners throughout the year, at which the Hugh Price Fellow and their guest would be most welcome.

Facilities

Hugh Price Fellows may make use of the College's well-equipped seminar and other rooms for meetings, entertainment, conferences etc., and can book accommodation for guests in dedicated Fellows' guest rooms. Hugh Price Fellows regularly use College facilities to host seminars, colloquia and conferences of several days' duration. The Fellows' Resources Room provides networked computers, printers, fax, and photocopiers. The College's beautiful 17th-century library offers working and reading spaces for all Fellows, with Wi-Fi (the student library is separate and may also be used).
